Auto-Trail motorhomes and campervans come in a choice of exterior or cab colours depending on the model, and chassis. The variety of popular options range from lighter to darker tones, so there is something to suit everyone's taste.

When choosing an exterior colour for your Auto-Trail motorhome or campervan, it is important to consider the following factors:

- The type of terrain you will be driving on. Lighter colours tend to show dirt and grime more easily, so they may not be the best choice if you plan on doing a lot of off-road driving.
- The climate you will be driving in. Darker colours tend to absorb more heat, so they may not be the best choice if you plan on driving in hot weather.
- Your personal preferences. Do you want your vehicle to stand out from the crowd, or do you prefer a more subtle look?

Ultimately, the best way to visualise these colours is to visit an Auto-Trail dealership or our stand at the biannual NEC Show.

Auto-Trail leisure vehicles feature practical, yet sophisticated soft furnishings, specifically tailored to complement the modern and welcoming atmosphere of each vehicle. These fabrics are unique to each vehicle range, offering the utmost comfort in a homely setting.

It is worth considering the fabric of a motorhome or campervan before making a purchase. Nice fabrics and soft furnishings can create a more stylish and inviting interior. They make your motorhome or campervan more comfortable to spend time in, and can also help to reduce noise and vibration.

If you have a dog or enjoy outdoor pursuits, consider purchasing a vehicle with darker upholstery for longevity.

WHY CHOOSE AUTO-TRAIL

When it comes to choosing a motorhome or campervan, experience and innovation matter. Auto-Trail, boasts over 40 years of expertise, standing out as a brand that combines decades of know-how with cutting-edge construction techniques to offer you a leisure vehicle like no other.

Cube Construction: The foundation of excellence

At the heart of Auto-Trail's superior motorhome craftsmanship lies the innovative Cube Construction process. Unlike other manufacturers, Auto-Trail builds its habitation units separately on air-suspended platforms, ensuring a close-tolerance interior to the furniture, walls, and roofs. This structure is not only exceptionally rigid but can be seamlessly bonded to the chassis in one piece using a proven structural adhesive.

The key to this construction's thermal efficiency is the 35mm Styrisol internal core, which provides a remarkable 12% more insulation compared to the industry-standard expanded polystyrene. This translates into a comfortable and cozy interior, even when facing temperatures as low as -15°C, thanks to the Grade III classification for heating and thermal insulation earned by Auto-Trail models.

Customisation for your lifestyle

One of the standout features of Auto-Trail's offerings is the ability to tailor your motorhome or campervan to your specific needs. With a variety of models, engine and chassis options, interior configurations (hi-line or lo-line), dinette choices, and exclusive options packs, you have the freedom to create a leisure vehicle perfectly suited to your preferences and lifestyle.

Industry-leading warranty cover

Auto-Trail's commitment to quality extends to its warranty coverage. All Auto-Trail campervans and motorhomes benefit from a five-year manufacturer backed habitation warranty, covering body construction integrity. Fiat-based vehicles have a two-year Fiat warranty and three year Fiat Assist, and Ford-based vehicles have a three-year Ford warranty and one-year Ford Roadside.

Performance-driven design

Auto-Trail's commitment to performance is evident in its aerodynamic exterior styling, which not only enhances the vehicle's aesthetics but also guides air and water efficiently around the body. This attention to detail ensures not only a smooth and stable ride but also protection against the elements.

When you choose a motorhome or campervan from Auto-Trail, you're not just buying a vehicle; you're investing in decades of experience, innovation, and craftsmanship. With superior construction, customisation options, industry-leading warranties, and a relentless pursuit of quality and performance, Auto-Trail is the brand that delivers an unmatched leisure vehicle experience.
